

Raster vs. Vector

Vector graphics contain points and line art defined mathematically. There are many types (eps, ai, etc.) but only SVG is supported on the web.

Raster graphics (jpg, gif, png, etc.) are created using a matrix of square pixels. Resolution, the number of pixels used to represent the image, affects its quality and size.